Report on the “Orientation Programme on Development of Administrative Skill for Teaching and Non-Teaching Staff” in 2023

Introduction

“Orientation Programme on Development of Administrative Skill for Teaching and Non-Teaching Staff” has opened various frontiers for the teaching and non-teaching staff to develop administrative quality and to establish rapport among all the staff and it is most important aspects in Formal Education System. Staff development includes all training and education undertaken by an employer to improve the occupational and personal knowledge, skills and attitude of employment. So both qualitative and quantitative parameters through them must be met and it is a holistic need of time which should be focused in curriculum implementation and curriculum transaction.

Objectives of the Programme

The main objective of this program is to integrate employees into their new work environment. The goals of orientation are to: Familiarize new employees with our organization's history, current undertakings, and future plans. Inform them about relevant policies and procedures. Providing skills and training in order to improve the administrative process. Identify the persons in the organization with the required potential and prepare them for higher positions in future. Ensure availability of required number of staff succession who can take over in case of contingencies as and when these arise in future.

In the new session one sees the induction of a fair amount of new staff both in the academic and the administrative wing of the college. Immense amount of effort and time is invested in training and integrating them into the college system. Emotional attachment to the institution has to be encouraged, and this will happen only if the staff members feel that they are equal stakeholders in the progress of the institution. Various objectives of this programme are:

To improve the administrative performance, better handling unexpected situations, learning culture inside an organization help attract new employees and improve loyalty, save money via retaining employees, help grow potentially good employees into great leaders, develop the quality to know others, it helps to understand the college.

Importance of the Programme

Orientation programme is important because it lays a foundation for the new employee's entire career with the department. First impressions are important since they establish the basis for everything that follows. Without orientation, new employees sometimes feels uncomfortable in his/her new position and takes longer to reach his/her full potential.

This programme provides to a teacher to interact with the administrative skills in order to devise ways of making academic and administrative experience. Providing skills and training in order to improve class-room teaching techniques and smooth administrative process of the college. Orientation is important because it:

- Provides the new employee with concise and accurate information to make him/her more comfortable in the job.
- Encourages employee confidence and helps the new employee adapt faster to the job.
- Contributes to a more effective, productive workforce.
- Improves employee retention. And
- Promotes communication between the supervisor and the new employee.

Eminent Resource Person:

- Resource Person: Mr. Debojit Chakraborty, Associate Retired Professor, Ram Thakur College, Badharghar, Agartala.

Language Development in the Pre-Primary and Primary Level

Sanchita Mazumdar*

Introduction

Essential though it is, for every parent and teacher to learn and culture the art of language development among children, but before stepping into the concept of language development it becomes necessary to get acquainted with the concept of language learning and language acquisition.

Language learning was so long regarded as a function where the teacher teaches and the learner
